Truman Says Vinson's Mission Aimed At Peace

UN Palestine Session Set Tuesday; Israel Agrees To Peace Talks But No Truce

L AVIV, Israel, Oct. 18.—(AP) ...el accepted tonight a United ...ns offer to arrange peace ... with Egypt on the fighting in ...ev. However, she rejected a ...e-fire proposal.

...e foreign office said no cease- ... proposal would be accepted ...til Israel is assured the Egyp- ...ans will behave.

In actions last night, Jewish troops stormed and captured the heights dominating the road through the Negev, Palestine's southern desert. A dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Carter L. Davidson at the front said the Jews had succeeded in blasting open their supply route to the desert.

Cease Fire "Impossible."

An Israeli Foreign office spokesman said the United Nations had proposed a four-day truce in fighting "to settle peacefully the basic differences between the Egyptians and Israel in the Negev" and suggested peace talks in Jerusalem.

Israel, he said, is ready to meet the Egyptians any time, any place for peace discussions. A cease-fire is impossible, he added, unless the United Nations can guarantee the Egyptians will not take advantage of such a truce to improve their positions.

Israel has thrown a top commander into the battle for control of the Negev Desert area where reports indicated heavy casualties as Jews and Egyptians struggled fiercely.

The noon communique said bombing targets for the third consecutive night were the El Arish air base, the city of Gaza, which is both the seat of the new Arab government for Palestine and the Egyptian headquarters, and Egyptian troop centers at Majdal, Faluja and Beersheba.

There were reports here, which could not be confirmed, that Arab forces were evacuating Gaza.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council today was called to meet in special session tomorrow to discuss the new flareup of fighting in Palestine.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate and October president of the council, ordered the session after conferring twice with Dr. Ralph Bunche, the interim Palestine mediator. Bunche said earlier he would ask for such a meeting if Israel refused to accept a three-day cease-fire order in the southern desert, where Israli and Egyptian troops are fighting.

Bunche said he still is trying to get an agremeent for a three-day truce.

Two Sessions Tuesday

The special session of the council means it will meet twice tomorrow, once at 10:30 a. m. (3:30 a.m. CST) on Palestne, and again at 3 p. m. (8 a. m. CST) on the Berlin crisis.

Bunche made his request for the three-day cease-fire yesterday to Israeli Foreign Mnister Moshe Shertok, who is at the U. N. meeting in Paris. sraeli officials said late last night the mediator's request is under consideration.

Bunche said he had talked with Warren Austiin of the United States, October president of the Security Council.

Egypt Accets Truce

"He said he would call a meeting if I give him the signal that it was urgent and necessary," the mediator said .

The mediator said Egypt had accepted his cease-fire order. Israel rejeced the original cease-fire ordered by the chief of the U. N. observers in Palestine. Later Bunche made his proposal for a three-day peace to Shertok.

"We're still waiting to hear from Israel," Bu...he said.

"If a satisfactory reply doesn't come today, thei we will go straight to the Security Council.

He declined to say what action he would ask the council to take.

Airlift Plane Is Shaken By Blast On Berlin Flight

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—(AP)—A United States C-54 transport plane supplying blockaded Berlin was shaken by a mysterious explosion today shortly after taking off from Berlin's Gatow airport.

The pilot said at first he believed a Russian anti-aircraft shell had burst near his plane.

U. S. and British officials, however, said they believed the plane was jolted by the concussion from a ground explosion which occurred so near Gatow airfield that it rattled windows.

There was no indication, these officials said, the anti-aircraft guns were fired.

The Russians gave no warnings of gun practice today in the air corridor used by British and American planes supplying blockaded Berlin.

Inspection Begun.

They did impose a sharp traffic inspection at occupation sector borders within the city, aimed at tightening the blockade.

The Soviet authorities were asked for an explanation for the explosion. At mid-afternoon, however, no explanation had been received.

Steadman said he had no knowledge of a published report that American fighter planes have been alerted because of flights by Russian and unidentified planes over the U. S. zone of Germany.

The Russians, in the last several weeks, have repeatedly engaged in aerial maneuvers and gunnery drills in the air corridor. These drew protests from the Western Allies. Today, however, there was no sign of any unusual Russian activity in the corridor, Western officials said.

Reds Plan "Back Fires."

PARIS, Oct. 18.—(AP)—John Foster Dulles said today Russia's bid to shift the Western powers out of Berlin by invoking "Starvation, disease and fear" has backfired.

The Republican party's adviser on foreign affairs told a news conference he was impressed by the high level of morale in West Berlin and West Germany resulting from the Western powers' determination to remain in Berlin.

A new low in the morale of the people of Soviet Germany is shown by intelligence reports reaching U. S. authorities, he said.

Dulles made a three-day visit to Vienna, Berlin and Frankfurt.

Direct Dealing On Atomic Controls Demanded By U.S.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The United States demanded today that the United Nations turn the deadlocked atomic energy problem over to the five great powers and Canada for direct negotiations.

Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin told the 58-nation political committee the United Nations could go no further in its efforts to control the atom until the Soviet Union agreed to "participate in the world community on a cooperative basis."

The Berlin dispute comes up tomorrow in the Security Council. A new compromise plan which would take the issue out of the U. N. is reported under consideration by the six neutrals of the council.

Red "World" Hit.

Austin, commenting on a report drawn up by an atomic energy sub-committee, declared:

"Communist states desire to live in a secret world of their own behind which, for all we know, they may arm and prepare their people for war. We do not desire to live in such a world.

"That is the impasse in which the United Nations Atomic Energy commission finds itself. This is an impasse which can not be overcome by the Atomic Energy Commission."

Austin said the problem must be turned over to the United States, Russia, Britain, France, China and Canada for negotiations.

Russia's Jacob A. Malik retorted that "no fairy tales about alleged closed doors and iron curtains can show that the Soviet proposal is inacceptable." He said Austin, by conjuring up fairy tales, revealed "the weakness of his position" and showed that the United States did not want to reach agreement on atomic controls.

Russian Stand Told.

Malik said the Russians had made a concession by agreeing to ban atom bombs and establish controls, but agreement was made impossible because "the Anglo-American majority" had changed its position to demand formation of a control body before banning the bomb.

Austin said Russia's new proposal to outlaw atomic weapons was a maneuver which was inacceptable to "sincere men." He repeated his rejection of the proposal, which would set up an atomic control organization simultaneously with the ban.

"This so-called concession proposed by the Soviet Union is not a

GOAL OF ABANDONED PLAN REVEALED IN SPEECH TO LEGION

PRESIDENT SAYS U. S. POLICY NOT SEEKING WAR BUT OPPOSITE

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 18.—(AP)—President Truman said today he considered sending Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow to ask Premier Stalin to help dispel "the poisonous atmosphere of distruct" surrounding negotiations between "the Western powers and the Soviet Union"

The president, in a speech delivered before the annual American Legion convention, described as "a wicked falsehood" what he called "loose and irresponsible talk to the effect that the United States is deliberately following a course that leads to war."

"No Chip on Shoulder."

"So long as I am president of the United States, there will be no chip on the shoulder of America," Mr. Truman declared.

He flew here from Washington in an avowed "non-political" role, and in his address described himself as "a delegate from Missouri, a comrade-in-arms, and commander-in-chief of our armed forces."

Mr. Truman previously had said he called off the proposed Vinson mission after talking with Secretary of State Marshall. He explained Marrhall thought singlehanded action by the U. S. might cause misunderstanding at the United Nations Assembly meeting in Paris.

Plan Explained.

Referring to the discarded plan in his speech to the Legion, Mr. Truman said:

"In recently considering the sending of a special emissary to Moscow, my purpose was to ask Premier Stalin's co-operation in dispelling the present poisonous atmosphere of distrust which now surrounds the negotiations between the Western powers and the Soviet Union. My emissary was to convey the seriousness and sincerity of the people of the United States in their desire for peace.

"This proposal had no relation to existing negotiations within the scope of the United Nations or the Council of Foreign Ministers. Far from cutting across these negotiations, the purpose of this mission was to improve the atmosphere in which they must take place and so help in producing fruitful and peaceful results.

"At this time I want to make

DeweyWinding Up Tour, Fear Seen For Senate Rule

By JACK BELL

ENROUTE WITH DEWEY TO ALBANY, Oct. 8—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey winds up his second campaign tour today with followers expressing new fear Republican may lose control of the Senate.

Traveling across Canada early in the day, the Republican presidential nominee was heading for his home base at Albany. He had train speeches scheduled at Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Schenectady.

The New York governor was represented as so confident of his election Nov. 2 that his campaign was entering a deliberate slowdown phase. He speaks in New York City Wednesday night at the Herald-Tribune Forum and Thursday night at a memorial dinner for Al Smith. Otherwise he has no firm speaking dates for this week—the next to the last available for traveling campaigning.

But if the Dewey camp counted its champion as safely "in," it was another story in its analysis of the critical races involving control of the senate.

Eight Races Tight

The figuring was that ding-dong battles in eight states—Colorado, Kentucky, Minnesota, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Wyoming and West Virginia—will determine whether the GOP holds or boosts its present 51 to 45 margin in the senate, yields ground or loses control.

Two weeks before the election, the best calculations of the Dewey strategists indicate they stand to lose at least three seats—in Oklahoma, West Virginia and Minnesota—unless there is a change in sentiment.

If they held their own elsewhere, any such result would produce a 48-to-48 tie in the senate, but the Republicans would retain control if the Dewey-Warren ticket wins because the vice president could break the tie on the issue of organizing the senate.

This would leave Republicans as chairmen on all of the important committees but it would mean that they probably would have to enlist Democratic votes to put over controversial legislation.

Norther Chills Texas, Causing Pair Of Deaths

By The Associated Press

The norther which spread over the state yesterday left two deaths attributed to the weather.

The body of a 70-year-old man was found lying face down in a pasture near a San Antonio underpass Sunday. Officers said they believed the man was drowned in the overflow from a drainage ditch swollen by the northerborne rainfall. The victim was identified as Charles L. Bates of New Orleans.

Death by exposure was the inquest verdict in the death of B. M. Berry, 25, who was in a rowboat which drifted helplessly in Corpus Christi Bay in the face of a norther for about ten hours Sunday.

State Clear, Cool

The state was clear and cool today except for light rain in the El Paso area and cloudy skies in the South Bend and Brownsville region.

Continued cool weather was forecast through the day with warming temperatures expected tonight and tomorrow.

Many areas had freezing temperatures or frost this morning for the first time of the fall season. The lowest in the state was 28 at Denton after a Sunday high of 63. Ranger, Amarillo and Lufkni had 29 readings. The highest minimum was 55 at Alice in South Texas. The coolest spot in the state yesterday was Marfa, where the temperature did not get above 39. Brownsville was the warmest with 81.

Much Rain Reported

Rainfall totaling 3.24 inches in San Antonio Saturday night and early Sunday was blamed for numerous traffic accidents. Two pedestrians were reported in serious condition after they were struck by cars. The San Antonio river in the downtown area rose to near flood stage, police reported. Several families were removed from their flooded homes along creeks.

The rain which came in on the norther brought 1.80 inches to Alice, 3 inches to Devine, .31 to Del Rio, 1.14 to Laredo and 2.9 to Lytle.

Rainfall reported in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a. m. today included .44 inches at Corpus Christi, .03 at Austin, .86 at Brownsville .01 at San Antonio, .03 at Lufkin, .11 at Victoria, .65 at Presidio, .25 at Marfa and .06 at Van Horn.

Wichita Falls reported its earliest frost on record. The frost was light, however, and damage was expected to be light.

New Record Seen For State Fair

DALLAS, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The State Fair of Texas moved toward a new attendance record today as it went into its final week.

Yesterday 212,560 persons braved cold weather and high winds to visit the Fair, bringing the total for the year to 1,149,508. Last year at this time 1,077,700 had visited the big exposition.

A hook-up and pump race by volunteer fire departments from 11 Texas towns was a feature of the Fair program yesterday. The Mesquite, Texas, fire department won the event when it took six firemen just 22.1 seconds to hook up and lay 100 feet of fire hose.

Honor medals were awarded to 17 Texas Future Homemakers. Future Farmers and 4-H Club members Saturday.

Think You're Cold? Not Like Stranded Young Mother Of 3

By BOB CAMPBELL
Daily Sun Staff.

The kind of a cold wind that gnaws and bores its way deep into the bones of man swept and swirled around the little one-room place at 703 East Tenth avenue over the week end.

Monday there came a lull in the wind. There was only the crispness of winter on the way. A fine, brisk day. The wind had moved on.

But in the heart of a 23-year old mother of three, there was no lull. There was no crispness, no briskness, nothing fine.

Only a deadness, a cold deadness. There was the chill that is worse than anything the rain and the wind and the northern blasts can bring.

Dread of Not Knowing.

There was the cold dread of not knowing. The cold knowledge of being a stranger in a strange town. The cold realization that seizes the hunter when he knows that he is lost.

On the eve of the annual Community Chest campaign with which to finance the social agencies of this city, the story that weaves its way around little Doris Smith, the 23-year old mother of Norristown and Chester, Pa., may or may not be worthy of study.

Let it be understood that in the eyes of social service, family rehabilitation, aid to dependent children, and all of that, Corsicana probably does not owe Doris Smith and her three towheaded children a thing. Unless it can be said that one heart owes another heart something, Doris Smith's problem is Doris Smith's problem. Perhaps.

Husband Disappears.

She came here with her war veteran husband. They brought along Donna, 4; Doris, 3, and John, 10 months. The husband, a war veteran, disappeared.

The mother got a job as a waitress at $15 a week.

There came another couple into her life, Larkin Allen and his wife, parents of four children, did what they could to help. Allen was hurt in a truck accident. There were lean days, as the nine people lived in a single room.

Larkin kept hammering away, trying to get aid for the children. The mother has had to quit her job to take care of the three underfed, undernourished, terribly tired-looking children.

Out in Cold.

Monday they were on the sidewalks again, the little children showing the signs of the cold.

There were regulations, always regulations, in the way.

Fires, Weather, Violence Take Lives Of Texans Monday and Over Weekend

WEATHERFORD, Tex., Oct. 18—(AP)—One man waso burned to death and another injured in an early-morning fire that practically destroyed the two-story frame Montfort Hotel here today.

The dead man was identified as Sam Wells, about 75, of Salem, Va.

The fire started in Wells' room from a gas explosion.

The injured man was C. C. Walls, 70. He was taken to a hospital, but his condition was not believed to be critical.

A battery station adjoining the 30-room hotel was damaged. Both the hotel and the station were owned by C. N. Brooks. The loss was estimated at $40,000.

The fire started at 5:55 a. m. The hotel, a laidmark, was about 60 years old. It was located a block west of the public square, directly across the street from the fire station.

Two Children Burn

DALLAS, Oct. 18—(AP)—Two negro children were burned to death early this morning when fire from an overflowing kerosene heater caught bedclothes afire, firemen reported.

Dead were Eddie Mae Bolts, three, and her brother, Charles Bolts, one and one-half. Their mother, Mrs. Addie Bolts, suffered second degree burns in a vain rescue attempt.

Firemen said kerosene from the heater near the children's bed dripped out and made a pool under their bed. As the wick burned down, the trail of oil somehow was ignited.

Wrong Woman Shot

ABILENE, Tex., Oct. 18—(AP)—County Attorney Theo Ash said an Abilene barber yesterday fatally shot a 19-year-old girl, thinking she was his ex-wife.

Ash said a murder charge would be filed today against John Thomas Williams, 50, in the death of Miss Jennenne Paschall.

The girl was slain in a tourist camp cabin, where the man's former wife, Mrs. Corrie Williams, resides.

After the shooting, Williams surrendered to police and made a statement to Assistant City Attorney Wilson Johnston and Detective C. Z. Hallmark that he intended to kill his ex-wife. They were divorced four years ago.

Miss Paschall was the fiance of

Big Education Program To Be Recommended

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 18—(AP)—Texas School Administrators were told today that the Gilmer-Aiken Committee will propose a state public program to cost $180,000,000 annually.

Dean L. D. Haskew, advisor to the committee, said the committee created by the 50th Legislature would also suggest drastic reorganization of the state department of education.

Haskew is dean of the University of Texas College of Education. His talk before the Texas Association of School Administrators gave the first public preview of proposals to be made by the committee named to make a long-range study of public schools in Texas.

Haskew said that the committee's report will include 34 proposals. Formal recommendations of the committee to the legislature will be based on the people's reaction to these proposals, he said.

The Gilmer-Aiken committee will suggest the establishment of a state board of education to be elected by the people; a commissioner of education, to be named by the board; and a department of education.

The state board of education now is appointed by the governor. The superintendent of public instruction is elected. They are often in conflict over policy.

Haskew said that of the 180 million dollar expenditure, 45 million would have to come from local sources; 70 million from the vail-

Emergency Board Named To Probe Rail Pay Dispute

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—President Truman today created an emergency board to investigate disputes between the nation's railroads and 16 non-operating railroad unions.

The unions are now taking a strike vote, and creation of the board is intended to head off possibility of a walkout. Under the railroad labor act, a work stoppage is forbidden while the emergency board is studying the dispute.

Mr. Truman's executive order said a strike would "threaten substantial interruption to interstate commerce" and "deprive the country of essential transportation service."

30 Days Ilowed.

The board is given 30 days to make its findings, and neither strike nor lockout can be ordered within 60 days after the board's recommendations reach the White House.

About 1,000,000 workers are involved. The so-called "non-operating" workers are those not actually engaged in running trains. They include switchmen, yardmen, maintenance workers, telegraphers, and numerous other crafts.

Mr. Truman did not name the members of the board. A White House spokesman said they will be announced shortly.

The unions are expected to complete their strike ballot by the end of this week. They are seeking a cut in the basic work-week from 48 to 40 hours, without a decrease in pay.

They also have demanded a 25 cents hourly increase in basic wage rates.

Explosion, Fire Raze Keller High School; None Hurt

KELLER, Texas, Oct. 18.—(AP)—An explosion and fire about 10:30 a. m. today at the Keller school completely destroyed the building and caused about $100,000 damage. All of the 350 students and the teachers escaped without injury.

School records and some typewriters were saved by quick work of school faculty members and several of the older boys.

Forty or fifty pupils in a study hall had a narrow escape when the ceiling almost collapsed on them after the explosion.

Tom McPherson, 16, a student in the study hall, said that the first thing he heard was a "pop" in an unlighted gas heater in the room. Seconds later there was an explosion in the space between the ceiling and roof of the building where the equipment for the manufactured gas system was installed.

Randal Simpson, school superintendent, said the loss probably would total $100,000. The school had $45,000 insurance.

RESTRAINING ORDER AGAINST CONVENTION DECISIONS ISSUED

SUIT SEEKS TO HALT ANTI-TRUMAN PURGE AND OBTAIN DAMAGES

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18—(AP)—Anti-Truman Democrats of Tarrant county won a temporary restraining order in 67th district court here today when they obtained a court order of sweeping magnitude designed to set aside actions of the state Democratic convention here September 14 as illegal and to halt the purge of precinct chairmen declining to take a Truman-Barkley loyalty pledge.

District Judge Morris signed the order, sought in a 45-page petition filed by Democrats describing themselves as "conservatives." He set 9 a. m., October 28, as a hearing date for their application for a temporary injunction.

Two Groups Clash

Warring Tarrant factions will be arrayed against each other at that time as they were at the state convention when the States Rights delegation here was replaced by a Truman delegation. Prominent members of the States Rights fatcion filed today's legal action. At the preceding county Democratic convention here, they adopted a strong anti-Truman resolution.

Allegations of fraud are made in the petition and violations of the state penal code, U. S. Criminal code, state laws and party practices charged. Actual and exemplary damages of $1 000 each are sought from a lengthy array of defendants including state Democratic Chairman John C. Calhoun of Corsicana and County Democratic Chairman Charles E. McKnight.

Other Members Attacked

Temporarily restrained in the order are Jack Carter and Mrs. J. W. Douglas, who were named as Tarrant's members to the state Democratic executive committee in September replacing Neville G. Penrose and Mrs. Bennett L. Smith.

The suit claims Carter and Mrs. Douglas are "unlawful claimants and pretenders to their positions and that Penrose and Mrs. Smith are the legal members of the ex-

Calhoun Will Obey Court Ban; Tyson Forecasts Battle

State Democratic Chairman John C. Calhoun this afternoon said he did not intend to violate any court order relative to the "purg..." of Democratic party officials over the Truman-Barkley loyalty pledge.

When questioned relative to the suit brought in Fort Worth, the chairman said that he had not been officially notified or served and all he knew was reports given him by news reporters.

No Move Said Made

"No move has been made to force the removal of any member of the State Democratic executive committee or any county or precinct chairman because of failure to sign a Loyalty pledge and none is contemplated by me," the chairman said. He had previously said that he had sent the pledges to his committee and county chairmen as directed by the resolution of the Fort Worth convention. Calhoun plans to present the names of those declining to endorse and agree to support the national ticket to the state committee for action.

The state chairman also said:

"Certainly I will take no action that would place me in the position of violating any court order in .his or any other matter dealing with the Democratic party machinery in Texas."

Most Sign Pledge

Calhoun added that 95 percent of the state Democratic executive committee and chairmen of the 254 counties in Texas had returned signed loyalty pledges to the national ticket in the approaching November 2 election.

"No action to purge the non-signers has been taken," Calhoun said.

Tyson Sees Action

"The Democratic party will seek early relief and proper answers will be filed and party officials will move to dissolve the restraints imposed," Tom L. Tyson, local attorney and permanent chairman of the September 14 convention in Fort Worth, stated at 1 p. m. this afternoon when advised of the suit brought in Fort Worth.

Tyson presided at the Ft. Worth convention.

"There are no material or substantial part of the charges made that are true and will be unable to prove the fantastic claims that they have in that petition," the permanent chairman added after being advised of the content of the suit.

Record Growth Of Austrian Peas Reported Here

Mr. Farmer won't believe this: But Austrian winter peas can grow to 12-inch heights in less than three weeks—and in a flower pot. And they can come up in five days, despite attacks by hungry rats.

Cline T. Young, Triple-A secretary, did it, with the help of Mrs. Buster (Joe) Bays and other office personnel—and a handful of phosphate.

Young said the experiment indicated that Navarro County soil needed a higher phosphate application in legume planting. The recommendation now is 200 pounds per acre.

"I don't know whether a handful in a flower pot is 200 or 2,000 pounds to the acre," he said. But he pointed out that the stand obtained in the flower-pot planting was the best he'd seen—and rats did some damage. In fact similar plantings were made of hairy vetch and Dixie wonder peas, but the rodents virtually destroyed them before sprouts were well under way.

Young explained that Austrian winter peas were cheaper and together.

Mrs. Bays was so pleased with the flower pot results that she planted a patch of the peas in her yard, with equal success.

Brown was informed by Saul Kaplan of the Manchester, N. H., plant that a hosiery mill had been purchased instead of starting a new unit.

concession," he said. "It is simply a maneuver designed to provide for the destruction of atomic weapons in one country before—and probably a long while before—there had been any determination of whether or not atomic weapons existed in another country."

"Fundamental To Control."

"If the Communist states were still a closed system," Austin said, "it would take some time to open them up so that control could become effective. And make no mistake about it, such opening up is fundamental to effective control."

The United States, Austin declared, "does not intend to give up its atomic weapons except under a system of control sufficiently effective to guarantee that other nations do not have and cannot secure these weapons." He said most nations support this policy.

Russia and the three Western Powers, the United States, France and Britain, are said to be interested in the new Berlin plan. Thus far, no commitments have been made.

Berlin Solution Sought.

Juan A. Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister who is acting chairman of the council for the Berlin discussions, arranged to see Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. Bramuglia still is leading the neutral nations efforts for a solution of the impasse between Russia and the west.

Authoritative sources involved in the maneuvering said the compromise would call for these moves simultaneously:

The Russians would lift the blockade of Berlin; Russian currency would become the sole currency for the former German capital, under four-power supervision; the four-power council of foreign ministers would meet or be called to meet on the whole German question.

bases farther south. Those in Tel Aviv speculated that they might be withdrawn completely because of Israel's defiance of the cease-fire order and her refusal to let the observers go to the front.

Unofficial informants said that unless the Egyptians strike back in force, the present phase of the fighting appears to be near an end. That would indicate, if it is true, that the Israel forces feel they now are strong enough to hold the Negev.

Under Jewish Control

The Negev was placed under Jewish control by last year's U. N. partitian decision, but Count Folke Bernadotte, the assassinated Palestine mediator, recommended that it go to the Arabs instead. The Jews object to this strenuously.

Thus far, the unofficial sources here said, there has been no real Egyptian counter blow—either in the air or on the ground.

There was speculation that the Egyptians might hold off in an effort to presnt the Israeli attack as a flagrant truce breach.

500 Jews Said Slain

(An Egyptian communique Saturday night said 500 Jews had been killed in fighting in the desert that day).

Military censorship blacked out several key details of the fighting even barring use of the Israeli commander's name and an order of the day to his troops throwing light on the scope and aims of the attack.

Israeli government spokesmen said the purpose of the Israeli attack was to smash open the road to Jewish settlements in the Negev southern Palestine desert.

That road crosses the Egyptian supply and reinforcement road to Beersheba, Hebron and the southern arc of the Jerusalem front. If the Jews won full control they would cut the Egyptian supply and reinforcement route for much of southern Palestine.

ecutive committee from this county.

The request for the restraining order asked a stop order on the execution of "any of the actions" taken at "the pretended state convention," here and termed actions of that convention "unfair, oppressive, illegal, arbitrary or fraudulent."

Colhoun, Tyson Restrained

Temporarily restrained, in addition to Carter and Mrs. Douglas, are Calhoun, McKnight, Vann M. Kennedy, Austin, described as "claimant to the office of secretary of the state executive committee, and Thomas L. Tyson of Corsicana, described as successor to Kennedy as caimant to that post.

All are restrained for a ten-day period. The hearing on the injunction will take place on the tenth day of the restrainer.

They are accused of having "actively participated in aiding and abetting a fraud committee in this county." Violations of the constitution of the United States and the State of Texas are alleged.

The restrainer prevents those named from "seeking to demand or exact written pledges to support Truman and Barkley" and "from further threatening" or seeking to declare vacant the offices of those refusing to take the loyalty pledge.

Replacement Bocked

Defendants are aso restrained from attempting directly, or indirectly, to replace the Tarrant county precinct chairman.

Carter and Mrs. Douglas are restrained during the same period "from taking any action with respect to or attempting to perform any duties which are to be currently performed as members of the state Democratic executive committee."

The contention is made that the attempt to purge precinct chairmen is an attempt not only to compel them to support Truman "but also to support the so-called Civil Rights program, which nominees are publicy committed to enact, although such specific legislation has not, as required by law, been first submitted to a referendum in this state."

Statewide Significance

The suit has statewide significance because of the seating at the September convention of Truman supporters from Harris, Dallas and several smaller counties as well as Tarrant.

The petition, in addition to those named, complains of Albert Leach of Fort Worth, who led the walkout which resulted in the Truman Tarrant county convention: Robert Calvert of Hillsboro, who was succeeded by Calhoun as state chairman; Byron Skelton of Temple, who led the Truman forces and was recommended to replace National Committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston by the state convention; and Speaker of the House W. O. Reed of Dallas, who served as parliamentarian at the state convention.

Earlier, the Associated Press reported one man died of exposure, another was drowned in a rain-swollen drainage ditch and at least three others suffered violent deaths in Texas over the weekend.

Officers said Charles L. Bates, 70, New Orleans, was drowned in a drainage ditch swollen by norther-born rains Sunday.

B. A. Carter, justice of the peace at Corpus Christi, returned an inquest verdict of exposure in the death of B. M. Berry, 25.

Berry died Sunday in a rowboat in Corpus Christi Bay after the small craft drifted helplessly for about ten hours in the face of a norther. H. L. Sadler, 25, his companion, said they started to cross the bay early Sunday. About 500 yards from shore the norther hit them, driving the boat from its course and preventing them from turning back. Sadler managed to steer the boat to shore about 3:30 p. m. He said Berry fainted about 1 p. m. The inquest verdict said Berry died about 2 p. m. Both men were from Corpus Chrsti.

Train, Truck Collide.

D. I. Nichols, 50, of Big Spring died Sunday of injuries received in the early morning hours when a Texas and Pacific freight train struck a truck loaded with naptha in Midland. Nichols, engineer of the train, was severely burned when the naptha caught fire and flames enveloped the locomotive The train fireman, R. C. Reed, 42, also of Big Spring, was critically injured. The truck driver was uninjured.

Saturday night Mrs. W. H. Swor, 69, died in her Fort Worth home when a 40-foot porch curtain fell on her.

Donnie Harbour, 10, was killed Saturday in Commerce when he fell through the skylight of a building.

A statewide search continues for Jane T. Stevens, 32, a Galveston school teacher, who disappeared last Tuesday. She drove her brother-in-law to work and has not been seen since.

Larkin said the Salvation Army had sent the family a case of vegetable juices. At the Red Cross office it was said they had not worked on the case.

At the office of the Family Service Association, formerly United Charities, Miss Augusta Helm, the director, said "that's our business," when asked if that organization had done anything regarding the mother.

She added, "Yes, we have done lots."

Doris Smith, blond and rather sad and bewildered looking as she herded her flock of children down Main street Monday morning, said she is willing to do anything to get help for the children.

A ticket back to Pennsylvania where there are relatives and friends.

Some means of feeding and taking care of the children while she works to get enough to buy the tickets.

Mrs. Sarah Cole Is Honored On 91st Birthday

Mrs. John Munroe held open house at her home in Wortham on Sunday afternoon in recognition of the ninety-first birthday of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Cole. The mother and daughter greeted the friends who called to extend best wishes and "Happy Birthday" greetings." Flowers, gifts and messages were received from out-of-town friends of the honoree.

The musical program was highlighted with the recordings of several of Mrs. Cole's original numbers. The program climax came when Mrs. Cole responded to a request and played "Fantasie Impromptu in C Sharp Minor." Hearty applause followed Mrs. Cole's contribution to the programmed numbers.

Mrs. Cole, who taught piano in Corsicana for many years, was a charter member of the Nevin Club and was active in church and social circles while here. While a resident of Dallas, she was a member of the Dallas Music Teachers' Association and served as vice-president of the Cecilian Club.

Mrs. Cole is a composer of note, her compositions having been played on numerous programs over the state, including those of the Texas State Music Teachers' Association and others. Her recently recorded numbers include her original anthems, chorus and other compositions.

Of the many honors that have been bestowed upon Mrs. Cole, she enjoys none more than being a charter member of the Texas State Music Teachers' Association in which she now holds honorary life membership.

For the past several years, Mrs. Mole has lived in Wortham with her daughter, Mrs. John Munroe, who is an accomplished musician and teacher, and who has contributed much to the advancement of music in her home-town.

it clear I have not departed one step from my determination to utilize every opportunity to work for peace. Whenever an appropiate opportunity arises, I shall act to further the interests of peace within the framework of our relations with our Allies and the works of the United Nations."

The United States' policy "is not now and never has been directed against the Soviet Union," the president said.

"On the contrary, we recognize that the peace of the world depends on increasing understanding and a better working relationship between the Soviet Union and the democratic nations."

The firm position this nation has taken, he continued, "should not be mistaken for warlike spirit." A firm position "on reasonable grounds offers the best hope of peace."

Mr. Truman said the United States never will "be a party to the kind of compromise which the world sums up in the disgraced name of Munich."

The president reviewed foreign policy moves of the past two years which he said have been aimed at creating "a political and economic framework" for lasting peace.

He listed three major moves: military aid sent to Greece and Turkey, the European economic recovery program, and joint action with Great Britain and France in setting up an economic organization for the Western zones of Germany.

"It is plain," he said, "that peace and economic recovery cannot be achieved in an atmosphere of political disorder and revolution. We have therefore felt it essential to help stabilize nations which welcomed our aid, and whose democratic traditions or aspirations invited our friendship."

Mr. Truman held out no hope for an early settlement of international difficulties. While the United States "utterly rejects" war as a solution to world disputes, he said, it is "realistic about the alternative to war."

"In international politics, new and serious difficulties are continually arising," he said. "It will be a long while before the great powers constitute the friendly family of nations which is often described as 'one world.'"

The president called for patience. Rivalry among nations "is an old story," he said, and history shows that "rival powers can exist peacefully in the world."

"When the destiny of all mankind is at stake," he said, "we need to exercise all the patience we can muster. We should utilize every opportunity to strengthen the United Nations for the great undertakings which lie ahead."

...lege Band ...ncounters Jinx; Drum Is Lost

The Navarro Junior College band followed the Bulldogs to Weatherford Saturday night for the football game, but it was hard on their drums.

The band members traveled by bus, but Band Director C. E. Beene towed a trailer behind his car, loaded with Boyce Martin Jr.'s wheel chair and the big bass drum.

Beene's car broke down in Mansfeld, Texas, on the way to the game. There he found that the drum had been lost out of the tailer. It's still lost.

The band bus then picked up the trays and took them to Weatherford.

There Drummer Martin, enthusiat t'e Bulldogs' showing, struck snare drum a little too hard bursted the head on it. ne band was practically drum- Monday.

Symptoms Of Heart Disease

By W. P. BROWN
Of Johnson's Pharmacy

Heart disease need not shorten your life. Many people live for years with a diseased or weakened heart. Furthermore, they live full, enjoyable lives with few restrictions. These are the people who took warning from re-occuring symptoms and consulted the doctor early and followed his advice faithfully.

Some of the more common symptoms of heart disease are swelling feet, breathlessness, fatigue, dizziness, digestive disturbances, and pains in the chest.

If you have been experiencing any of these symptoms, see your doctor now. Buy what medicine he prescribes from a skilled pharmacist.

Bulldogs Winners Over Weatherford Saturday Evening

Navarro Junior College ran rampant over Weatherford Junior College's Coyotes Saturday night in Weatherford, 38-0, and began sharpening up its high-geared offense Monday morning for this week's clash with the Hillsboro Indians.

The Bulldogs ran up the one-sided score against the Coyotes in a fresh norther before a handful of fans that braved the elements. They led 13-0 at the end of the first quarter, 20-0 at the half, and 32-0 at the end of the third quarter.

Bill Davis counted three touchdowns, Bill Reed racked up two and Kenneth Hopson accounted for the remaining score. A strong wind blowing cross-field played hob with the tries for point after touchdown, but Jack Holland converted two of the six.

Line Leads Way

It was again the story of the Navarro line opening gigantic holes in the opposing line to let through the Bulldog scatbacks into the disrupted secondary. Reed's passes kept the Coyotes off balance throughout.

The charges of Ken Clark and Guyle Akrigde sustained nothing in the form of serious injuries in the fray, in spite of the cold. Apparently they will be at top strength for the meeting Thursday night Oct. 21, in Hillsboro.

Thursday Nite Tilt

Kickoff time is set at 8 o'clock at the high school stadium there.

Jack Brown, Ennis back who is seeing plenty of service, did not play against Weatherford because of a sprained ankle. It is not known yet whether he will be ready for the Hillsboro game.

There is little on which to base the comparative strength of Navarro and Hillsboro. Their only common opponent is Weatherford, which the Indians blanked 28-0. On that basis Navarro is the slight favorite.

Ken Clark is preparing for a tough battle, nevertheless. He will put the Bulldogs through hard drills Monday and Tuesday, and taper off Wednesday in preparation for the tilt.

Seek Revenge

The Hillsboro Indians plastered a humiliating 37-13 setback on the Bulldogs last year in their meeting on Tiger Field. Navarro has few boys on the squad this year who took part in that fiasco, but those few remember it.

So far this season, Navarro has suffered but one loss, an 18-13 setback at the hands of Del Mar of Corpus Christi opening the season. Hillsboro went down 19-0 last week before the perennially-strong Henderson County Cardinals. That game was closer than the score indicates, however.

John Sam Haslam of Corsicana was injured in an automobile collision here. The 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haslam was given better than an even chance of recovery.

Berlin city authorities announced that that 14 food kitchens would be opened in that German city to feed and care for the many unemployed.

The state of Oklahoma was emerging from one of its most distrous floods, and it was estimated that more than 1000 people were being cared for by relief agencies. Millions of dollars worth of property were laid waste and public utility services were demoralized.

ELECTION MARGIN

Political prophets are saying that American voters already have made up their minds how they are going to vote on the presidency in November, that it is all over but counting the ballots. On the other hand the opinion polls continue to show that the number of undecided voters, while small, is big enough to swing the election one way or another.

Any follower of horse-racing will say that a race is never over until the finish line has been crossed. The same wisdom applies to elections. That probably is why the candidates, ignoring the opinions of the prophets, continue to campaign vigorously.

There is a thought in this for the individual voter, too. The election may be won by the candidate who is able to sway the most votes at the last minute. Or it may be lost by the voters who, at the last minute, do not take the trouble to go to the polls.

DEMOCRATIC BRITAIN

Democracy took a step forward in Great Britain when the House of Commons passed for the second time the bill reducing the time the House of Lords may delay legislation from two years to one. While the Lords promptly voted this bill down, under the present law this is not fatal. If the Commons passes a bill three times, it becomes law, regardless of what the Lords do with it. And the House proposes to enact this measure next year.

This is not a particularly drastic change. The real break with tradition came when the present law was passed in 1911. Before then the Lords could reject any bill except the annual budget, and their decision could not be overruled. The one possibility was to hold a parliamentary election immediately with the rejected bill as the main issue. If the vote ran in favor of the bill, the Lords would give way. This was, however, a cumbrous system, putting a premium on obstruction by the Lords.

Churchill's present leadership of the Tory party has caused it to be forgotten that in 1911, as a Liberal, he was one of the main advocates of this restriction of the power of the Lords. And he has never publicly confessed any regret for his 1911 stand.

PROBING FOR THE LINE

At rare intervals in the post-war fencing with the Soviet government there have been small signs that the Russians believe somewhere between East and West is a line across which it would be dangerous to push their aggressions, and that they are constantly trying to find where that line is located. The shift in their posititon regarding atomic energy control is such a sign.

That they have not yet located the line may be chiefly because it has not been drawn, or if it has been drawn it has only now been done. It seems likely that the Western nations and Russia will continue to press opposed ideas and aims, for a long time. That being the case, it might be possible to lessen the constant tension by establishing that inviolate line for which Russia seems to be probing.

But it is obviously impractical, and would be folish in any case, to draw a geographical line, and declare that on one side of it is the East and on the other the West. Of more use would be a moral line, and the time may now be ripe for establishing it.

The line might well be drawn on the basis of the sanctity of a nation's pledge. An aggressor nation strides to war over its own broken word and discarded honor. If the Western Powers should let it be known that the one act which would bring swift and certain retribution would be the breach of a pledge, might not a different atmosphere surround our negotiations?

SETTLE DOWN.

"Settle down!" they say to me.
Settle down to what? I ask.
Blind to every need I see?
Scornful of the slightest task?
Daily at my ease to set?
Idle as the hours go by?
Call myself for life unfit?
No! Not I!

Settle down and strive no more?
Want no further goal to gain?
Never venture from the door
Into the wind or snow or rain?
Settle down beside the fire?
To be useful cease to try?
Never let the body tire?
No! Not I!

'Settle down," the doctors tell.
"Save your strength as now you may.
Slow your step and you'll be well.
Sleep the afternoons away.
Turn your back upon the town.
Every call to serve deny.
Drop your tasks and settle down."
No! Not I!

PLANNING FUEL USE

The suggestion has been advanced by officials of the American Gas Association that there should be over-all planning on a national scale, of the use of the three major heat-producing fuels, gas, oil and coal.

At the present time the three fuels are in competition with each other. Other things being equal, Americans favor competition, for it stimulates better industrial service at lower prices. Until a few years ago that general observation definitely applied to the competition among oil, gas and coal.

But supply recently has become a critical matter and competition is no longer among sellers but among buyers. The supply of these fuels must be considered as a natural resource of limited extent. As far as the relation of buyer to seller is concerned, the present situation can be expected to reverse itself in a few years so that producers of gas, oil and coal again will compete with each other in the heating market. But we no longer believe there is a limitless store of any of these fuels.

We like competition and the good result it brings, but we don't like the thought that such a good job of selling one of the basic fuels might be done that the supply would be prematurely exhausted. If the useful life of our natural stores can be prolonged by national planning as to which fuel should be used for what purpose then such a plan is worth serious study.

RUSSIAN CONSTITUTION

Russia has a constitution just as the United States does, and one with many liberal features. A key to the difference may be found in the fortunes of its architects.

When it was adopted in 1936 Pravda, the government official newspaper, ran pictures of the eight men who had most to do with the new constitution. In 1946 at the tenth anniversary celebration, Pravda ran a picture of the sole survivor, Stalin. Another of the founders, Kalinin, had died a natural death. The others had been shot.

This might happen some day to Molotov, Vishinsky and Gromyko. In Russia it could hapen to anyone, including Stalin. It is well to remember, however, that some things which are possible are not likely.

DISPLACED PERSONS

Probably no one who has been a "displaced person" could fully understand the feelings of the 826 persons who are to become the first to be admitted to the United Sates from Europe under the 1948 Displaced Persons Act. It can be guessed that most of them will be hoping earnestly that the delays and disappointments encountered in preparing to sail to America will not continue to plague them after they get here.

The start of the transportation schedule for the displaced persons has been set for three different dates in October, but it is now believed that the first ship really will sail sometime after the middle of the month. Lack of ships, shortage of hands to do the associated paper work, and just plain confusion apparently have been combined in holding back the start of the movement.

These displaced persons will be coming to America from a harsh and terrible experience in Europe. We hope they will find America as full of hope as they envision it. We hope Congress may find a way to open the doors to greater numbers of them, with fewer processing difficultics as the program proceeds.

CAMPUS LEFTISTS

Parents are often alarmed when their offspring come home from college indoctrinated with Lefist theories. In such cases young students have sometimes taken as gospel opinions handed down by instructors who believe that the free enterprise system is doomed to failure and are not averse to giving it a shove on the downward path.

President Franklyn Bliss Snyder of Northwestern University in a recent speech remarked that a few such teachers are present on most campuses. He said:

"If American business prospers we educators have income. If it does not prosper, we go without. American education owes a great debt to American business."

Dr. Snyder has pointed out one fault in the thinking of those who would indoctrinate youth with disrespect for and lack of appreciation of the system which has made possible the erection and maintenance of the great colleges and universities which cover the country. Students should learn of social reform in all its various phases, and be exposed to many doctrines. At the same time, it should be pointed out to them that the economic source of their education is the competitive system.

Calmness is the best parental weapon. Much of what seems dangerous is mere effervescence from the ferment of mental sprouting and growth. The bubbles will blow off when exposed to the winds of actual living, and what remains may have its uses as the young mature.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

Have you missed $12.53 from your pocketbook lately? It went toward school taxes according to the Census Bureau. Every citizen paid that much, on the average. Highway cost $11.01 per capita, public welfare $9.64 and hospitals $3.26. These four functions of government accounted for two thirds of the $8,155,332,000 which it cost to run the forty-eight states last year.

On the face of it these are all legitimate undertakings. There could be waste and there could be graft. In any case, it is well to remember that if your taxpayers' nerve is feeling especially sensitive of late, it is not all Uncle Sam's fault. State and local governmental expenses have a good deal to do with it.

MARKS OF EXPLORATION

"Peary was here." Like the storied Kilroy, Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, and explorers left records of their presence for future travelers over the same route to find later. There must still be a snow mound at the South Pole, constructed by Roald Amundsen when he became the first man to reach this southermost point. Peary left flags at the North Pole, but there is little prospect that these remain, the more so as the North Pole is on an ice cake in the open sea, while the South Pole is in the interior of an Antarctic Continent.

One record that Peary left on his way, a rock pile containing a bottle with a statement by Peary, has just been found after more than 10 years by Charles J. Hubbard, Weather Bureau chief Arctic operations. It was in northermost Ellesmore Land, only 450 miles from the North Pole.

This recalls another dramatic find made in a very different part of the world. Early in the century Sir Aurel Stein, an English archaeologist, was exploring ruins in the windswept deserts of Central Asia. He left his ruler on one of the mounds. Many years later it was found by Sven Hedin, the Swedish explorer, and on his return to Europe, was solemnly returned to Stein at a London banquet.

Peary and Stein picked almost the only parts of the world where portable property can be laid down and found later.

HIRAM BINGHAM HIGHWAY

A city on an Andes peak was unknown for centuries because other and taller mountains hid it. This was Machu Picchu in Peru, found in 1911 by Hiram Bingham, a versatile man who was at various times explorer, professor of Latin American history at Yale, and governor and senator from Connecticut. He went down in the Roosevelt landslide of 1932, and now, like many other out-of-office politicians who have experienced the glamor of public life, is living in Washington.

The lost Peruvian city, with its marvelous citadel, now can be reached by travellers to Peru who want to see Inca civilization at its highest. A road there has just been built, and by inspiration of the Peruvian government has been named for Hiram Bingham. This graceful gesture should contribute to the good neighborliness between Latin America and the United States.

Secretary Marshall, who has been serving his country all his adult life, must occasionally look with longing for the day when he can retire A specially attractive feature of retirement would be that then he would not be compelled to listen to Molotov and Vishinsky.

ICING UP

Out In The Open

(AN EDITORIAL)

At long last the republicans and Texas regulars who have been cluttering up and causing trouble in the ranks of the Texas democratic party are coming out in the open and showing their true colors.

The most recent to declare openly his support of a republican candidate is Coke Stevenson, former governor, former lieutenant governor, former member of the legislature and former speaker of the house.

All these posts of honor were given Mr. Stevenson by the democratic party.

If any one man in the State of Texas owes loyalty to the democratic party that man is Coke Stevenson.

So long as Coke could ride the democratic donkey in a comfortable canter to an easy win in the stretch he was apparently most loyal.

But when the going turned out to be a little rugged, accompanied by adverse decisions, the calculating ot Coke soon faded to a faint croak and he jumped the course.

Now the pipe-smoking and coffee-cooling sage of Junction is running in reverse, making a desperate effort to grab the tail of the GOP elephant, with the hope ot being saved from the political grave which he has created.

There is little doubt that Stevenson's announced support of the republican senatorial candidate has made votes for the democratic candidate he opposes.

Few people have any respect for a poor loser and many voters who did not intend to cast ballots in the general election will do so now and will vote the democratic ticket straight.

Texas voters have not forgotten that Mr. Hoover carried Texas when he was elected president.

Texas voters also have not forgotten the events that followed while Mr. Hoover was president.

The democrats of Texas will turn out and vote in the general election, Tuesday, November 2, and there will be no chance for a repetition of the Hoover mistake.

The great majority of voters in Texas are democrats and will vote the ticket straight.

The republicans and jumped-up minorities make a lot of noise but the voting strength is small.

This was demonstrated four years ago when the Texas regulars created quite a din but no strength was reflected in the ballot box.

Mr. Lyndon Johnsor is the nominee of the democratic party and as such he will be elected United States senator from Texas.

President Truman and Mr. Barkley are nominees of the party for president and vice president, respectively, and as such they will carry the State of Texas.

Texas democrats will go to the polls in November and vote for democrats—which is as it should be.

1949 ACP Program For County To Be Established Soon

Soil conservation practices for which farmers may receive government financial assistance next year will be selected by agriculture officials in Navarro county in the near future, Triple-A Secretary Cline T. Young announced Friday.

The 1949 ACP program and practices which probably will be selected, were discussed at a meeting of Production and Marketing Administration officials in Fort Worth Wednesday and Thursday, Young said. He and County Agent W. H. Walker and the county committee attended the two-day meeting.

B. F. Vance, state PMA director, of College Station, and two PMA officials from Washington discussed the 1949 practices program and farm price supports, emphasizing that support prices are not causing high prices over the nation Young said. The need for educating the public on the government price support program was stressed.

Members of the county committee are George Ward, Elmer D. Smith and John G. Christian. Walker is an ex-officio member of the group.

Young said the county committee, community committeemen, SCS representatives, vocational agricultural instructors and other interested parties would meet "in the near future" to adopt the '49 practices program.

Dawson Trounces Italy, 21-6; Fans In Disturbance

The Dawson Bulldogs downed the Italy Gladiators Friday in Dawson, 21-6 in a District 19-B game that was interrupted at one point by a fight between the players and between spectators.

No one was hurt, however. The fist-swinging started between Dawson and Italy gridders during the game, and spread as partisan fans joined in the fray, M. A. Kimbrough, Dawson coach, said.

Dawson school officials broke up the disturbance in short order.

Bobby Lawrence scored the first touchdown for the Bulldogs in the first quarter on an end sweep. Don Allen Baker scored the other two Dawson touchdowns, both on running plays.

Italy scored in the final quarter, but failed to convert.

Mrs. W. Kirke Steele will return from Houston Tuesday after attending a meeting of the Texas Social and Legislative Conference Convention in Houston.

YOU CAN HAVE PLENTY OF BUTANE
ALL WINTER
IF
ADEQUATE STORAGE

Will you be sure of having all the LP-Gas you will need this winter? Or will you be at the mercy of bad roads, bad weather and possible gas shortages? There is only one way in which your Butane-Propane dealer can promise you all the gas you'll need and that is for you to have adequate storage now!

So if you want to enjoy all the advantages of gas next winter — without any empty-tank worries — let your dealer explain how you can be guaranteed of having dependable, year-round gas service. Write, phone or see him today.

The refineries which produce LP-Gas (Butane or Propane) have the same capacity all the year around. They produce the same amount of gas in the summer as they do in the winter. Yet there is four times as much gas used during the four winter months as there is during the other eight. That means LP-Gas produced in the summer must be stored for use in the winter. The refineries have increased their storage facilities Your local dealer has increased his. But that's still not enough! Even more gas must be stored

HERE'S THE ANSWER
The only solution to this problem is for you folks who use LP-Gas to increase your storage facilities, too. That's the only possible way in which your dealer can assure you of having a dependable, year-round supply of LP-Gas. Remember — your storage tank is like the gas tank in your car. If it's too small you're always running out of gas. So play safe. Get set for winter by getting adequate storage NOW!

HOW BIG A TANK DO YOU NEED?
You'll have adequate storage when you have a tank big enough to hold a supply of gas that will carry you through the four winter months. A tank that size will enable you to have it filled now while plenty of gas is available. Then, this fall, you can have it refilled and start off the winter with enough gas to see you through

Arrival Of Long-Awaited Sweeper To Result In Cleaner Corsicana Streets

Corsicana, after a long dirty spell, was in a position Saturday to get its face scrubbed.

In the city barn was a brilliant red street sweeper—a $6,558 answer to the summer complaint of the Chamber of Commerce that this is "the dirtiest city in Texas."

The sweeper, after being expected for months upon months, finally rolled in Friday night and was being looked at and patted affectionately by city employees Saturday morning.

Cost $6,558.

All in all, including a broom filling machine at $162, the machine cost $6,558. It is an Austin-Western Model 40, one of the larger types, and was purchased on bid from the Hi-Way Machinery Co. of Dallas.

Twelve years before Pearl Harbor the city of Corsicana purchased a street sweeper.

Lloyd Wheelock was mayor at the time—Dec. 7, 1929—and the commissioners were W. C. Stroube Liston Tatum, Raz D. Fleming and W. P. Brown.

The sweeper swept for a few years, was disposed of after operators swept one night, worked three repairing it. The city's sprinkler lost in a bout with a train at a crossing and Corsicana's streets started accumulating filth.

Street sweeping—mostly the lack of it—jumped prominently into the picture last summer when a group of Chamber of Commerce representatives severely criticized the city for its debris littered downtown district.

Even before that, however, the street sweeper had been ordered, and Mayor Hubert T. Braselton told the group "You have six weeks now in which to gripe. The sweeper should be here by then."

The machine was delayed, but the promise was fulfilled in a big way Saturday.

It will be next week before the taxpayers can start beaming upon its clean streets. The machine will be operated every night, but a factory representative must come here before the initial operation. He is due Monday.

Fred V. Blucher, city engineer, said a crew of three will be necessary to operate the big red vehicle. One will operate the machine, and two will man a truck that follows it to pick up its discharged cargo after a yard has been bundled into the machine.

There will probably have to be some action by the city commission regulating parking on downtown streets after midnight.

The city's present sprinkler—something the army had left over—probably will be retired.

...RLD CO... ...Y DAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE BY CHURCH WOMEN ON NOV. 5

World Community Day which will have a local observance November 5 when the Corsicana Council of Church Women meets for a worship service and luncheon at First Methodist Church, was planned by representatives from each of the churches in membership Friday morning at First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. W. V. Mowlam is president.

Speakers for the worship service in the sanctuary at 11 o'clock in the morning, November 5, will be the Rev. Curtis Junker, member of the Bishop's Board of the Diocese of Dallas, Episcopal church.

A covered dish luncheon in the Educational Building will follow and in the afternoon kits for the Pack-a-Towel project will be packed and prepared for mailing. These are to be dedicated in the morning service by the Rev. Erwin F. Bohmfalk. Ten local churches are represented in the membership of the Corsicana Council of Church Women.

"Theme for the day's observance is "Peace is My Responsibility."

Individual Gifts

Mrs. Mowlam has reminded local church women that while most of the pack-a-towel kits will come from societies and circles of the churches in membership in the council, individuals also are encouraged to pack kits and bring them to the church for dedication and mailing through the World Service center to needy young people overseas.

No group in Asia or Europe has suffered more physically and spiritually than the young people, the United Council of Church Women believes. Stabilizing influences of home, community, church and school have been denied them. So council has proposed that a kit be sent to each one possible.

These kits should be packed according to the following directions: Start with a pretty bath towel 22 inches wide. On one end of the towel fold new or good as new garments in as complete an outfit as possible.

To be included are bedroom slippers, but not hard soled shoes; new material for dress, or yarn; a sewing kit, soap, comb; tooth brush, hair pins, hankies, socks, stockings, neckties, scarfs packed into a pocketbook, pouch or washcloth; and writing materials. Nothing breakable or spillable should be packed.

The sender has been reminded to include a friendly note with name and address.

Flap other end of the towel over the pile; pin edges together with a dozen assorted safety pins, and bring bundle to the church for dedication on World Community Day. Each package in addition to those special instructions should be marked with a large crayon B or G for girl, the letter to be written on a piece of cloth and pinned to the bundle, since the list above can be adapted to the purpose of either.

A special offering is to be taken that day to be used to send the bundles overseas and furnish vitamins and medical supplies.

Youthful Wartime Spy Speaker For Reassembly Of Knife And Fork Club

By BOB CAMPBELL
Daily Sun Staff

In the turbulent, bitter days of Omaha Beach, the spillway of blood on the Cherbourg peninsula, a group of OSS and French Maquis leaders were fighting the risky game of espionage in Brittany.

There was the upset of plans and the usual confusion that occurs when the French are attacked. There was gunfire at a farmhouse, and there followed chaos, and tumult, and disjointed, unlinked and uncoordinated action. Self possession flew across the English channel.

Maj. Paul Cyr, youthful spy, youthful speaker, made a talk that resembled that as the winter season of the Knife and Fork Club got underway with a dinner at the Corsicana Country Club Thursday night.

Soldiering at 16

The OSS man, 16 when he started soldiering and now 24, faced death not once but many times after parachuting behind the lines into France in World War II, but it is believed he faced it with more poise than he did an audience last night.

The Vermont native was introduced by Dr. Erwin F. Bohmfalk, 1948-49 president, who was presented by the outgoing president, Mayor Hubert Braselton.

The speaker, obviously nervous, started with a description of espionage in the raw and ended with an indictment of the present Central Intelligence Agency, governmental peacetime information-gathering bureau.

Between the two points the going was rough.

Jumps Dangerous

There was once when he jumped off into waters far more dangerous than those encountered in any given part of the almost always deadly channel.

He was telling of help received in France from 'an old countess" who lived in a constantly cold chateau. She swam a river to help him and his French comrades.

"It was marvelous to see that old woman jumping into the river," he said. "She must have been 49."

There were seated around the youth many women who were fast approaching 49, and there was general laughter. The speaker, blushing and shrugging, attempted a qualification.

French Older Faster

"In France," he said, "I think ladies must get older faster."

The audience liked the earnest Vermonter, but found it difficult to pick up the threads of his story of what went on in those hectic days of the invasion before Maj. Cyr finally delivered Britany coast fortification plans to Gen. "Old Blood and Guts" Patton.

What he told, however, of the German gestapo, of the courage and faith of the French on Brittany, of the difficulties and failures of those who went ahead to the most dangerous mission of them all was revealing.

The lives of 5,000 airmen, he said, were saved because the OSS with the help of French civilians established a line of evacuation.

French Paid Tribute

He paid high tribute to the French, 3000 of whom gathered around him and his two French helpers after his first plunge from the sky into enemy territory.

"The French of Brittany have never been given credit and never will be given credit for what they did before General Patton got there," he declared.

The speaker deplored the break up of OSS after the war, and deplored the lack of a capable intelligence unit.

"There should have been an intelligence service come out of the war," he declared. "We need an organization now capable of gathering information in every corner of the world and pooling it for proper distribution.

"In Washington you will be told that we have one. It is the CIA, or Central Intelligence Agency. It has not given the type of service we need today."

Wallace Looks To Election Of 1952

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Henry Wallace, looking toward the 1952 election, moved his presidential campaign here today.

He was still striving for every possible vote for his Progressive Party on Nov. 2 but he was also taking every opportunity to hammer home this message:

"No matter what the vote is, on Nov. 2. I am not going to quit this fight. This party is going to keep right on going!"

Wallace bore down heavy on that theme yesterday at three meetings in Detroit and Flint, Mich., fighting to offset the anti-Wallace leadership of the CIO United Auto Workers.

Menard High School Burns

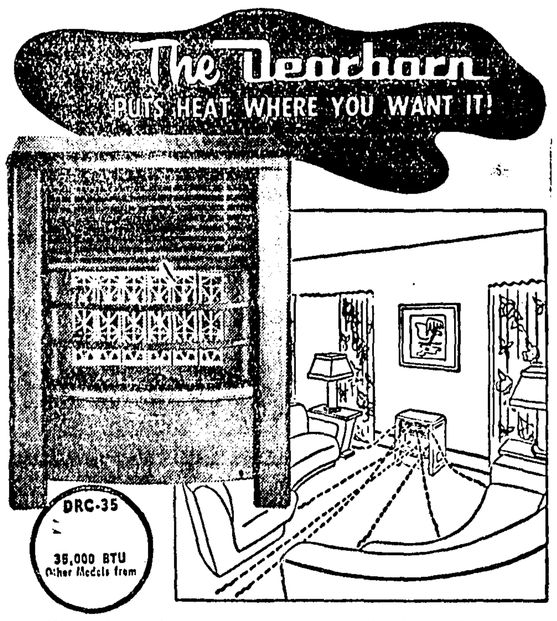

MENARD Oct. 18.—(AP)—The Menard high school building was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. Damage was estimated at about $150,000.

The fire was discovered about 4 a. M. Origin of the blaze has not been determined.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Late selling halted a rally in the stock market today with prices ending irregularly higher.

The volume of trading was about 1,000,000 shares, the highest in several weeks.

Steels and oils led the rise until the gains were pared down by small fractions leaving many of the leaders unchanged to slightly higher at the close.

In the van on the rise were U. S. Steel, which ended unchanged, and Standard Oil (NJ.)

New highs for the year were reached by National Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Jones and Laughlin.

Generally higher earnings in the third quarter for steel companies was anticipated in Wall Street, and there were wide discussions of the possibility of an extra dividend at the directors meeting of U. S. Steel Oct. 26.

The American Iron & Steel Institute reported steel operations would produce the second highest tonnage in the history of the industry, surpassed by only 5000 tons in the second week of April, 1944, in the midst of the war.

Rails were slow in starting but finally edged into higher ground by fractions to as much as a point. Utilities remained steady most of the day in a narrow range. Motors tipped down.

Volume was boosted by the transfer of a number of large blocks of stock, particularly in Commonwealth & Southern which went in several batches of 10,000 shares and one 15,000 share block. After trading unchanged for most of the day it moved up 1-8 to a new high for the year.

Stocks highest included Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, Northern Pacific, Pacific Western Oil, Phelps Dodge, Anaconda, Air Reduction, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, Douglas Aire aft, Oliver Corp., Caterpillar Tractor, Woolworth and Goodrich.

On the downside were Vanadium, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, Union Pacific, Du Pont, and American Smelting.

New York Cotton Table

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Cotton futures were firm today on fairly broad trade and commission house buying which met only scale up hedging. The market was influenced partly by a statement of Chairman Hope of the house agricultural committee, urging the stockpiling of cotton for possible emergency needs and his prediction of prosperity for farmers for the next eight or ten years.

Reports of better mill inquiry for spot cotton and active demand for export cotton also aided the market.

Futures closed 70 cents to $1.20 a bale higher than the previous close.

There were two minor car wrecks investigated by the police department Sunday. A 1946 Chevorlet being backed from the curb by J. T. Smith and a 1948 Hudson driven by Mrs. Roland Marchard figured in one of the crashes.

In another a Borden Milk Co. truck driven by Harold Blankinship and a 1933 Chevrolet driven by H. V. Gill of Dallas were damaged. Each was turning on Thirteenth St., from the 400 block of West Seventh Ave.

The department over the weekend arrested four persons for drunkenness, gave a motorist a ticket for operating a motor vehicle with an exhause whistle.

...y Caton Over For Lone Marker In Fourth Period

By TALMADGE CANANT
Daily Sun Staff

The Corsicana Tigers knocked at the door for three quarters Friday night before they finally rammed over a lone touchdown to beat the Hillsboro Eagles 7-0 and successfully defend their district title in the first loop game of the year.

The Tigers not only wore down a stubborn Hillsboro line, but they had to whip two adverse decisions in order to win.

Boyd Payne's crew took advantage of O. E. Scarborough's fine punting and Hillsboro's bad breaks in the first half to spend most of that time in Eagle territory. Three times during that period the Tigers got inside the Eagle 30, and each time they failed to score.

It was a continuation of such play in the second half that finally paid off.

Juggles Punt

Scarborough had just punted to Gibson on the Eagle 35, and the safety man juggled the ball, finally dropping it, and several Tigers fell on it to get possession there.

Fullback Elbert Berry rammed the line for 6 yards, and then Jerry Caton tossed an aerial to Jackie Crook, who made it to the Hillsboro 5 before he was downed. Berry picked up one at center.

Then came a play that Boyd Payne protested vociferously and which threatened again to deny the Bengals a score. Caton passed, and a Hillsboro defensive man fell against the receiver's heels as he went down. Officials failed to see the infraction and Payne stormed on the field in vain protest.

Caton Scores

Caton then passed to McGraw on the 1 yard line and on the next play Caton rammed over tackle for the score. Walter Bond converted.

In the first half of the game, Hillsboro used its T formation plays on the ground with deadly efficiency to rack up a big lead in first downs and yards gained rushing. Corsicana had the edge on penetrations, however, by virtue of its threats during that period

Corsicana's punting and pasing nullified the Eagle ground game.

In the second half the Tigers solved the visitors running game, and during that entire period the Eagles could gain only 17 net yards.

Crook Takes Pass

It was Corsicana's passes, with Jackie Crook on the receiving end, that ate up yardage at an amazing clip. In the third period Caton tossed a long pass to Crook that was good for 51 yards to the Hillsboro 2.

The Tigers failed to gain on one play, and then Berry carried it over, but the officials ruled that he was in motion, and the score was not allowed. A subsequent penalty on the Tigers set them back and they relinquished the ball on downs on the Hillsboro 8.

Caton's pass to Crook also set up the only touchdown of the game.

The game was rife with mistakes, and both teams made enough of them to last for awhile. The Tigers did not quit fighting, however, and as the game wore on they had a better edge over the Eagles.

Solve Eagle "T"

Perhaps the most surprising thing in the game was the transformation that came over the Tigers after the half time period. In the second period they solved the Eagle T, and the plays that had been good for yardage against Corsicana in the first half fizzled in the second.

The Bengal line stiffened and threw back the visitors running game.

Jerry Campbell and Johnny Gibson, Hillsboro backs, gave Corsicana plenty of worry in the first half with their jet-propelled drives through the line, but their fuel ran out in the second half.

In the Tiger line there was not a player that did not deserve praise for a full game of hustling. Harvey Helms at guard got more than his share of tackles, and Howard Chapman and Ben Sharpley turned in perhaps their best games at tackle. The Tiger ends seem to function more smoothly on defense, too.

Jerry Caton turned in another capable game at quarterback. Elbert Berry came back into his own, and turned in some good gains in vicious drives into the line in the second half.

Team Play

But the play of the team as a whole was the deciding factor in the Bengal win. A hallmark of Corsicana grid teams, it has won games when nothing else could.

The Corsicana band, now getting adept at the lights-out routine, with each piece lighted up, stole the halftime show.

They formed in the darkness and played a little ditty about a four leaf clover.

Hillsboro's band paraded, and its tiny girl mascot drew "oh's" and "ah's" from the crowd.

The crowd left the field last night with the conviction that the new Tigers are learning, even if they are inexperienced.

MENAHEM PRESSLER, PIANIST OF PALESTINE, CHOSEN FOR MC KIE MEMORIAL CONCERT

MENAHEM PRESSLER

Menahem Pressler, the brilliant young Palestinian pianist who has been chosen as the W. J. McKie Memorial Concert attraction for Tuesday evening, November 16th at Corsicana High School Auditorium, started his American career by flying from Tel-Aviv to San Francisco in the late summer of 1946 to win, from among 65 contestants, the International Debussy Prize. His first tour of this country, in 1947-48, won not only the highest praise from leading critics, but brought him a virtually unprecedented three-year contract with the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Pressler was born December 16th 1928, in Magdeburg, Germany, but was only ten when his family fled from Hitler's land to Palestine where the boy grew up, free to develop his great musical gifts.

Studied With Many Teachers

He first studied four years with Eliah Rudiakow, who gave him the Russian piano tradition. Then, in 1944, he began to study under Prof. Leo Kestenberg, one-time Minister of Fine Arts in Germany, himself a former pupil of Busoni. He also started playing in public, with the Palestine Symphony and in recital in Tel-Aviv, Jerusalem, Haifa, Rehoboth, Petach, Tikwah.. He attracted the attention of Dr. Karl Salomon, music director of the Palestine Broadcasting Service who put him on the air repeatedly and helped him musically and practically in his budding career.

Meanwhile, general education went side by side with musical progress. The young pianist picked up languages with avidity. Hebrew was added to his native German, then English, Arabic and some French. He read everything he could put his hands on, from Goethe and Schiller to Racine and Corneille. Sensative to people and to art in every form, the growing boy developed into much more than a brilliant young pianist. He was laying the foundation for fame based on culture and humanity as well as musicianship and virtuosity.

Stages Debussy Hunt

In Tel-Aviv, Palestine, August, 1946, a Debussy hunt was on. Seventeen-year-old Menahem Pressler was to fly to America to enter San Francisco's first international music contest and compete for the $1,000 Debussy Prize. He had read about the competition in an American paper and had shown the varying periods.

clipping to Max Rabinoff. The visiting impresario, vatsly impressed by his talent, promised to help him. While transportation problems were being solved, Pressler scoured the country for piano music of Debussy. Contestants had to know 27 compositions by heart. Pressler knew only three. By the time he was ready to leave he had found another sixteen; the rest were not in Palestine.

Stepping off the plane at LaGuardia Field, New York, he rushed straight to a music shop. On the transcontinental train trip he buried himself in Debussy. He arrived in San Francisco the day before the contest.

There were sixty-five contestants. The judges included composers, Darius Milhaud and Roger Sessions, Charles Cushing of the University of California faculty, and Marjory M. Fisher, music critic of the San Francisco News. The decision was unanimous. The judges said: "There was never any doubt..."

Won Three-Year Contract

During his first tour Pressler played five times with the Philadelphia Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy and won a contract for three years to come. He also was soloist with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony under Stokowski and other leading orchestras. Everywhere his success was outstanding. The young "poet of the piano" made friends and followers as he travelled, his personality and his fingers conquering city after city.

Menahem is pronounced "Men-AH-hem." In Hebrew it means "one who consoles," an excellent name for a musician.

State Home Takes 38-0 Win From Blooming Grove

The State Home Lads powered their way past the Blooming Grove Lions Friday night in Blooming Grove by a 38-0 count to remain undefeated in district and season play this year.

The Lads' unbridled power continued to mean the big difference in its contests.

The Green and White exhibited a seasoned mixture of passing and running. Two of the touchdowns came in the air and the remaining four were the result of a vicious ground and defensive game.

Bryant Counts First

Eugene Bryant counted first for the Lads when he covered a fumble behind the Blooming Grove goal.

Roger Perona's 1 yard jaunt through the line climaxed a drive that came from midfield for the second counter.

Cleo Downe's brilliant 35 yard run back of an intercepted Lion pass accounted for the third score.

For the fourth count, Tommy Gordon passed to W. A. Cannon who covered 50 yards to score. End Cannon also scored the fifth TD on a 15 yard pass from Downey.

Final Score Foster's

The final touchdown came on Floyd Foster's 40 yard gallop through a broken field.

Downey converted one point after touchdown and passed to Wallace Mitchell for the other.

Jack Denny played a whale of a game for the Lads, both on offense and as defensive linebacker.

Standouts for the outclassed Lions were Truman Rhodes and Tommy Jordan, left half and quarterback, respectively.

1½ Billion Dollar Road Block!

RAILROADS MUST OPERATE around the clock every day and night of the year.

Although they know this, leaders of 16 railroad unions are demanding a five-day, Monday through Friday, week for one million railroad employes.

They want 48 hours pay for 40 hours work—In itself a 20% wage increase.

They also demand a minimum of 12 hours pay for any work performed on Saturdays, and 16 hours pay for any work performed on Sundays and holidays.

On top of all this they want an additional increase of 25c an hour for every employe!

You'd Pay the Bill!

Summing up these demands, they mean that these union leaders seek to force the railroads to give one million employes an annual raise which would average $1500 per employe!

The total cost of this would be no less than 1½ billion dollars per year, which is more than twice the expected net income of the railroads this year.

You'd pay the bill, because if these increased costs are forced on the railroads, they must have still further rate and fare increases.

Demands Unreasonable

These employes have had substantial raises during and since the war. Their average weekly earnings are higher than the average weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries. They have more job security than the average worker in American industry. They also enjoy paid vacations, a retirement system and other advantages more generous than the average worker receives.

In contrast with the demands of these 16 unions, which add up to the equivalent of 48c an hour, the Conductors and Trainmen recently settled their wage request for an increase of 10c an hour.

Railroads Run for Everybody—Not Employes Alone

The railroad industry must serve not one but many groups—producers, businessmen, shippers, passengers and the general public—night and day, every day of the year. These unions are proceeding in utter disregard of this important difference between railroads and other industries. Industrial plants can be shut down over weekends and holidays, but freight, mail, express and passengers must continue to move. Everybody who enters railroad employment knows this.

Strike Threat

On September 18, 1948, the leaders of these 16 unions began taking a strike vote. But the threat of a strike will not alter the opposition of the railroads to such unreasonable demands!
